My interests concentrate intellectually as well as emotionally on this strange object called mankind. Consequentially the conditions for surviving on earth must be of interest too. Most severe problems are concerning clean air, clean water and enough of energy. It seems to be a major moral duty to leave to our successors as an absolute minimum air and water in an adequate state. As nature is basic for food there must be taken care of it as well. All these problems are too severe for leaving them only to politicians; people generally should be made sensitive to Environmental problems. Trying this, there will be to overcome the naturally existing lethargy of people. Furthermore it will be of great importance not only to apply on intellectual power and common sense, but also to integrate the emotionality of people, as otherwise irrational arguments could thwart all good intellectual intentions.
